Don't wait for business to find you.
It's your business to find business—even if you have to advertise for it.

An enterprising genius has started a paper in California called the Moon.
A rival editor is praying for a total eclipse.

Senator Quay considerably announces that he will not recommend more than two persons for the same office.

It is estimated that between 50,- 000 and 60,000 persons have had their property destroyed and their avocations suspended by the flood in the Mississippi valley.

The fleet edition of the Los Angeles Herald is a very creditable and excellent issue. The Herald is an enterprising journal, and is doing much for California and Arizona.

An exchange remarks that Ada Byrd, the girl of 11, who recently eloped with and was married to the young son of Governor Atkinson of Georgia, only followed the example of her forbears. Her mother married at 13, while her maternal grandmother married even younger. Early Byrds evidently, adds the saucy Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Los Angeles Times says: It is thought the recent sale of the Santa Fe Gulf branch to the Southern Pacific will make a great difference in the importation of tobacco into the states west of the Mississippi. It is now almost certain that the two smallest boats of the Pacific Mail Steamship company will be put upon the Guaymas route from Panama, saving an immense amount of way travel between those points and opening up the Central American coffee trade to Denver, Kansas City and althe towns in Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado. The road will have plenty of business under its new management.

F. A. Havemyer, the sugar king, is dead. Thus are the sweets com-mingled with the bitter. Just before the king passed away he became converted to the Roman faith and expressed a desire to be buried from St.
Patrick's cathedral, New York, which wish was complied with. His was a long and "useful" life devoted to "bulling and bearing" one of the substantial commodities of life to the detriment of the helpless millions, and not being of a "giving" turn of mind never found time to make any overtures to his Maker until the inevitable summons appeared. It is a happy conclusion, however, when one can spend a life-time distressing his fellowman and, when the books of extortion are about to be balanced, don the robe of purity and sail to elysian fields on high. A beautiful thought for some people.

Spanish atrocities on the island of Cuba continue unabated, becoming more pronounced and barbarous, if possible, as the conflict progresses.
While Butcher Weyler has not been able to cope with the little handful of insurgents, fighting for their homes and liberty, he has been able to cow and murder the defenseless women and children by taking away their means of sustenance, death from hunger following as a result. This is a made of warfare adopted by Weyler and peculiarly his own, for the purpose of touching the tender chord of the husband and father and forcing him, for the preservation of his family, to surrender himself and be shot.
While these agonizing means of the famished and dying are waited to us by the winds not one word of condolence is offered, not one word of sympathy expressed, the moaning of the helpless and dying infant continues the appeal of the heart-broken, starving, defenseless mother goes unheeded, and she, too, succumbs to modern, Christian warfare, and dies!

Uncle Sam is too busy putting in the spring crop of tariff reform and watching the financial plank, which he fears may give way under pressing strains, to give heed to the concern of others. And so the world moves on.

BISBEE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, April 28, 1897

Herbert Drachman left this morning for Tucson after a visit in Bisbee of several days duration. Herbert was doing a little rustling this trip but we cannot say just how he came out in Bisbee.

Miss Edith Hughes left this morning for Tombstone to visit the family of her sister Mrs. McPherson, several members of which have been quite ill recently. She will remain until her sister regains her usual health and strength.

A. G. Watkins left this morning for a vacation part of which will be spent in California and the balance according to his fancy. Al is one of Bisbee's staidest miners and he informed us this morning that this would be the first time he'd been out of the canyon in four years. He will undoubtedly enjoy his trip.

P. J. Murphy, one of Bisbee's old timers and well known through his efficient management of the clothing department of the Copper Queen store left this morning for Flagstaff. Mr.
Murphy has secured a position with Babbitt Bros. and he will take charge of one of their branch stores. Both Messrs. Babbitt and Murphy are to be congratulated.

"One of our contemporaries stated that it is hard to find local news in Bisbee. The Lyre is willing to put its local columns beside that of any daily paper in the territory, published in a city of same population."—The above little effusion from the Bisbee Lyre is only another of Mr. Hall's raw crackles. We are undecided whether to attribute this one to ignorance or egotism. For the said columns as a general thing consist principally of undesirable gambling notes, and paid notices for out of town drummers, with occasionally a side note for some of the disreputable residents of the lower canyon.
Of course the balance of the column is always accurate and interesting.
Take for instance a case which happened a few days since when one gentleman was noted as returning home on three successive days; and then again, the case of a certain young lady who had whooping cough and measles one day, pneumonia the next, and fever for the rest of the week.
These are only samples of the guess work which characterizes the sheet and we will merely remark that it would be much better for his "Scribbles" to put in a little more time on legiti-mate items and less on disreputable notes and the blowing of his horn.

BISBEE, April 29,
COPPERINGS.

Mrs. A. A. Castaneda, of Benson who came up yesterday on a short visit, returned to her home this morning.

Sam High and T. C. Amsden left this morning for Morenci. They are both well known as first-class smelter men, and they will take charge of the plant at that place, relieving John Mobery and Fred Sanstrom, who will probably return home in the course of a few days.

The Copper Queen Company is making another shipment of 200 tons of copper matter. They made a consignement of this size last month, and expect to make similar shipments during each of the next six months; this in addition to their regular bullion output.

The Daily Lyre is distinctly home paper—that is, sometimes. Their little chant is continually, "patronize home industry," "subscribe for the Daily Lyre," and "bring your job work to this office." They ask the support of our town folk, our merchants, and everyone who has anything to do with the place. "Don't send away your job work, at least not until you have given the Orb a chance." In return for all patronage they offer what? A thumb-payer published on a monkey-wrench—a contemptible sheet run by mediocre talent, or more strictly speaking, without talent at all—with the sole motto of "For revenue only, and with no end in view but the financial betterment of one who, from a lack of modesty and having an overplus of gall, writes himself "editor!" By the shades of Ben Franklin, by the tomb of Horace Greeley, let us bow, and in honest supplication ask that the spirits of these departed editors be not offended, for in its ignorance it should be forgiven for assuming to stand as a paper among papers when, in reality it is only a mouse. "Patronize home page devoted to a Tucson advertisement and a good part of the balance to "contribute to the Orb." Gall!

Why, the god of gall would sneeze off and hide his face in despair!

with its local columns filled to the brim with unclean notes and poorly constructed notices of the attractions offered by visiting drummers, to the detriment of our own business men.
"Bring your job work to this office—and we will recommend you to Mr.
—, the misfit Tucson clothier, whose ad. appears on our second page.
In short give us the earth and we will return you dirt; pay for running the Lyre and we will help your opponents; give your patronage and we will peddle about Zeckendorf's chemise when his drummer hasn't time—will this blanc-visaged youth who claims to "edit" a newspaper.

Since writing the above the Lyre has taken exception to our mention of the general dislike prevailing over some of their wanton articles, and have referred to us in their own scurrious way. As every one in town can readily perceive that the article in question is merely a network of fabrications, and, of insinuation, where they dare not make a statement, we think it altogether a waste of time to even comment on the thing.

SULPHUR MINES.
These of Lower California to be Operated.

J. A. Dubbs Chairman of the Board of Directors of the company organized in Pittsburg, Pa., to work the Sulphur mines in lower California and E. L.
Devore, General Manager of said company arrived here Wednesday and made arrangements to go to the mines next week and the following day left for Ventura Cal., where the works of the company are located.

The sulphur will be quarried out and shipped to this place and then by train to Ventura.
Mr. Devore will shortly return to Yuma and make this village his headquarters.—Arizona Sentinel.

SUGAR-BEET INDUSTRY.
What Eddy, N. M., Accomplished in One Season.

The factory season at Eddy has closed and the results are summed up about this way: A few thousand pounds of seed were sown, 14,000 tons of beets were harvested. Twelve or fourteen hundred acres were planted, which cost about $22 per acre to do the work necessary to harvest them.
They brought an average of $4.50 per ton, hence about $63,000 were paid to the farmers of the valley for beets alone, no mean amount these hard times. The factory shipped 130 car loads of sugar. It has a capacity of two hundred tons a day and can supply 70,000 people with sugar.—Pecos New Mexico, Valley News.

MINING IN ARIZONA.
Southern Part of the Territory Enjoying a Boom.

Arizona is enjoying a season of mining activity. The rich gold discoveries and new copper finds in Yuma, Pima and Cochise counties, in the southern part of the territory, during the last three months is unequalled in the history of Arizona. The monthly output of gold has passed the million limit, and the monthly copper output is over eleven million pounds.
The enhanced value of red metal has excited great activity in prospecting for the same.

UNJUST INUENDO.

A "Reporter" That Does Not Know a Great Deal.

The Jerome Reporter attempts to cast aspersions upon the sincerity of prospectors who may have been "grubstaked" and failed to uncover a bonanza for the generous donor of a handful of beans and a sack of flour.
That some prospector's "grub stake" gave out when within a few feet of the goal of his ambition the Prospector does not deny; but that cannot be taken as a reflection upon his integrity. It is more likely that the man who furnished the "grub-stake" did not realize a fortune quite as readily as most "tenderfoot" anticipate, and jumped at the conclusion—like the Reporter editor—that prospectors are robbing the hills and enduring all the vicissitudes that man is heir to simply for what meager food he can entice others to contribute.

The prospector, viewed from a pedagogue's standpoint, will not "pan" with a western man who knows the real worth of our pioneers and holds the prospector in the highest esteem.
Had Prof. Joycelin consulted the son of any prospector in the primary department of his school room he could have learned something, and he would have written differently. The Reporter says:

"There is a striking example of gold prospecting usually done by fellows who get a 'grub-stake' and strike out in the fall to eat it up, in the incident that was brought to light a few days ago near Prescott. A gentleman, while examining a deserted claim, took it into his head to put in a few holes and see what was in the bottom of an old cross-cut, and his curiosity was rewarded by seeing before him a vein of rich looking ore, which by a horn-spoon test will run about $80. Why such a streak of ore was never followed up would be a mystery to any one who did not know the habits of the majority of the prospectors."

DID GOD DO IT?
Startling Manifestation of Divine Retribution

"May God strike me dead if I am the murderer of Bernardo Assuro," cried Joseph Cicado in the court room at Hollister, California. The last words had scarcely left his lips, when with a shriek he lurched forward and fell to the floor. The terrified officers and spectators stood aghast for several moments at what appeared to be a startling manifestation of divine retribution. Then several rushed over to the prostrate man and endeavored to assist him to the floor. There was no response to their efforts. Joseph Cicado was dead.
The man was a Portuguese and had been arrested on a charge of having murdered Assuro, a Mexican rancher, whose dead body was found last Saturday morning in his cabin in the Cleveland district.

The first telegraph line in Arizona was the military telegraph line, the first pole of which was placed in position at Fort Whipple, September 2, 1873. The building of the line was at the suggestion and through the efforts of Gen. Crook; $50,311 was appropriated by Congress to complete the line from San Diego to Prescott, with a branch line to Tucson. Within two months from commencement of work the line was in working order between San Diego and Prescott.—Courier.

Robert Downey and John Burke chuca to east-in parties for $20,000, and the owners of surrounding claims are correspondingly happy.

The property owned by the Chicago fire department is valued at $2,062,- department, comprising 109 companies.

A special to the Denver Republican from Santa Fe, N. M., says United States Marshal Fred Higgins and a posse of five had a running fight with Black Jack's gang of desperadoes in the mountains of western Grant county, 150 miles east of Chifton, Ariz., and killed Sid Moore, one of the desperadoes. The other escaped.

It is stated upon reliable information that the Mexican government has granted a concession to the Sonora company, limited, to construct their repair shops at Nogales, Sonora.
The application to also remove the headquarters of the company from Guaymas to the same point was denied. It is said the Benson shops will be at once removed to Nogales unless the pending negotiations between the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe companies should stop the same.

County Treasurer Avenworth and District Court Clerk Emanuel are the leaders of fashion in head-gear, and were seen on the streets today displaying the "latest cut." The cornering very much resembles a wooden chopping bowl when inverted, or the shell of a Guaymas turtle. There are only two of these hats in existence, which will place these gentlemen as exclusive leaders without followers, unless some of our young society gen-men choose to take an Indian pocksaddle and trim it with straw matting, which would serve as an elegant deception.

Superintendent Johnson of the Gold Cliff Mining Company, at Pearce, was a visitor to Tombstone yesterday.
Mr. Johnson reports development on the Cliff as giving every indication of becoming the second bonanza of Cochise county. Mr. Johnson is not inclined to beam the property which he represents, preferring to let the output of the mine speak in its own behalf, believing that its merit will be more readily recognized in this way than through cheap talk.

Haunted!
The human tenement is often haunted —so the grievous discomfort of its possessor—by those malignant spirits, constipation and biliousness. But the abominable pair may be speedily driven out with the potent help of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This genial alterative which relieves the bowels and regulates the liver, never, as a drastic pur-gative does, produces violent effects and weakens the intestines. On the contrary the action of the Bitters is precisely analogous to an effect of nature seeking to resume her proper functions. This furnishes pretty conclusive evidence that it is better to use persuasive means, so to speak, than to endeavor to coerce nature to a return to duty. Violent remedies produce only a temporary effect, followed by a hurtful reaction.
For indigestion, malarial and kidney complaints, rheumatism and nervousness, the Bitters takes highest rank among remedies of the philosophic school.

A little before going to press an alarm of fire created considerable excitement. The conflagration was found to be the large stable in the rear of the Robertson residence and was entirely destroyed. Before the fire had gained considerable headway and the stable is a complete loss. A horse was rescued from a fiery death but saddles, harness and many articles stored was consumed by the flames.
After the fire was supposed to be out and nearly every one returned home a second alarm was sent in, the residence having caught fire from some embers and in putting this out some damage was done to the household furniture by water but the fire was extinguished before it could gain headway. The origin of the fire is believed to have started by a small boy who was in the barn and handled some matches. While distinguished and heroic work was done by the fire department and many willing hands much credit is also due the soldiers who are camped below town they have seen the fire first and were on hand to render efficient work.

who is spending a few days in Globe, writes that he expects to return to Bisbee tomorrow evening.

Mr. A. A. Pasqueria, of Hermosillo, Mexico, and one of the largest cattle men in Sonora, will commence shipping 2,000 head of cattle next Tuesday from this place to Kansas City.
The cattle are contracted for.

Mr. Worden's resignation from the Copper Queen store will take effect tomorrow. Mr. Worden has been in poor health for some time, which necessitates a change from indoor to outside life, and has accepted a position with the Erie Cattle Company.
His many friends hope that he may realize his fondest hope.

INCUBEN OSTRICH.

It Takes Care of Itself From the Very Outset

The ostrich farm may be seen at its best now, says the Phoenix Republican. An interesting feature is two broods of ostriches which are much more interesting than the older birds, as they give an idea of the building up of the grown ostrich, which in the completeness of its maturity has become a rather familiar figure here. A young ostrich is left to bustle for himself at an early age. When the maternal parent has laid the egg for him she seems to think that her responsibility has ceased. In this climate she will do a little something in the way of hatching him out, but all her work in that direction appears to be thrown in for good measure. Nature usually assumes charge of him from the instant the egg is laid.
When the ostrich is hatched part of the egg clings to him. It is a part of the yolk and furnishes him sustenance through a mysterious channel for three days. Then his diet is changed and he begins to lay the foundation for his reputation for omnivorousness.
He fills himself up with gravel for the next three days, so that in the ostrich pen near Phoenix a pile of gravel is as essential as a mixture of corn meal and water is to a brood of lately hatched chickens. It is in fact much more essential, for the chicks could be fed on something else, but without the gravel they young ostriches would certainly die.

After he is well ballasted the young ostrich is turned out on a pile of broken eggs of uncerberus age. A three days' course of this diet fits him for alfalfa.
Then his education is said to be complete and then he is given a diploma authorizing him to eat any thing he can swallow. These little ostriches feed on alfalfa until they assume a bulky shape. Then they lie down with their feet stretched out behind, gazing longingly at the surrounding alfalfa and lamenting the limitation of capacity with which liberal nature has restricted the ostrich stomach.
The increase this year will probably be not less than sixty birds.
